This treaty abrogation is a rusher, and no mistake.

Gompers will show his good sense by making no reply to Burns.

A Red Cross seal, or more, purchased will help to brighten some lives.

President Taft must feel at last that there is "something doing" in his administration.

The millennium is not at hand; but Col. Otis of the Los Angeles Times says there's some good in unionism.

The Wells river valley will sit up o' nights, beginning to-morrow, to see the "Green Mountain Express" swish through.

Most people, when they block the streets in New York City with a crowd, are arrested for disorderly conduct; but not T. R.

"A little more bromo and less Sulzer, please," is the call of the Springfield Republican. In view of the contemporary's unexpected lapse, it should get what it wants.

It goes without saying that ex-Gov.
 U. A. Woodbury of Burlington won't hesitate long in choosing between Burlington's two aspirants for lieutenant-governor, Max L. Powell and Chauncey M. Brownell.

However, the next high-spirited show girls who shoot a rich man's legs are not likely to come out as well as the Graham-Conrad combination. It is something which won't bear frequent repetition.

The self-appointed leader of the Holy Ghost and U. S. society is showing more self-restraint and amenity to the law than he permitted himself to exercise during the long cruise of his ship, when men on board were suffering for the necessities of life and laboring under other privations. And the calm demeanor which he is now maintaining is only what could be expected if the man were to live up to the professions in his religious life.

BARRE'S HOSPITAL.

The continued progress of the Barre City hospital, as shown by the annual reports submitted at the association meeting last evening, should be a source of gratification on the part of all the people of the city and of the surrounding towns as well. That the institution is doing an important work is indicated by the large number of patients treated during the past year; and it is further evident that the hospital can be of greatly increased usefulness when larger facilities are placed at its disposal. The constantly growing support from a widening circle of people is sure to make this expansion possible within a reasonable time. The building which was transformed from a private residence into a public institution of considerable importance has already been outgrown.

THE DEBOER "MACHINE."

Joseph A. DeBoer is not the kind of a man who would use the great financial institution, of which he is president, to further his interests in the governorship contest. Such an insinuation from those hostile to him is unworthy of them.— Barre Times.

Is it possible for the head of an insurance company with active agents in practically every town to be a candidate for public office and at the same time prevent his business organization from becoming in effect a political organization?
 Can Mr. DeBoer be a candidate for governor without making a political machine of the National Life—Brattleboro Reformer.

The insinuation was that Mr. DeBoer would convert the National Life Insurance company into a political machine with instructions to agents to work in behalf of the DeBoer candidacy. We said then, as we say now, that Mr. DeBoer will not take such a step. At the same time, it must be admitted that the mere fact that the candidate is president of the company for which they work should not be allowed to alienate the support of such of those agents as honestly believe Mr. DeBoer to be the best man for the office of governor. If agents of the

THE UPWARD TREND OF FARM VALUES.

Although a manufacturer himself, Gov.
 Foss of Massachusetts is doing much for the agricultural interests of his state; and the Boston Transcript does him the credit to lay part of his activity to sincere purpose because "being a Vermonter and reared on a farm, he has really a larger interest in farming than most of our governors." Be that as it may, there is something more than Gov.
 Foss' farm interest back of the raise of Massachusetts' farm valuation from $27 to $36 per acre during the period from 1900 to 1910; it is the indication of a general progress of the farming industry throughout the New England states, as shown also in the greatly increased valuations in Vermont and New Hampshire.
 Agriculture is coming into a higher place in the life of the country under the impetus of improved methods, and Massachusetts is feeling the effects of it, as well as the states which are more nearly given up to farming. Nevertheless, Gov.
 Foss can do much to help along the progress by executive co-operation with the legislature of Massachusetts.
